Preparation of recipe materials

Homework 1

PV207 - Business Process Management

1 Brief summary

This process is situated after Research & Development with help of chef creates a recipe. It is needed to edit the recipe, add more description to it and create photos for the recipe. In the end all these parts will make it up to materials for recipe. After that recipe will be published if we already have needed ingredients. If not recipe will be stored without publishing and Research & Development will be notified for which recipe materials we are missing ingredients so that the ingredients could be achieved.
